

Bryant University
DigitalCommons@Bryant University

Speert, Edith and Victor A.

Letters by Women During World War II

12-10-1944

Letter Written by Edith Speert to Victor A. Speert Dated December 10, 1944

Edith Speert

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.bryant.edu/edith>

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons

Recommended Citation

Speert, Edith, "Letter Written by Edith Speert to Victor A. Speert Dated December 10, 1944" (1944). Speert, Edith and Victor A.. Paper 5.
<https://digitalcommons.bryant.edu/edith/5>

This Personal Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the Letters by Women During World War II at DigitalCommons@Bryant University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Speert, Edith and Victor A. by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@Bryant University. For more information, please contact dcommons@bryant.edu.

Sunday, 12/10/44, 10:30 p.m.

Sweetheart darling,

Tried to get alot done today, but when you awoken at 10 a.m. your day is kind of half gone.

Then, at 2 p.m. I left the house and met Amy Embury & Dorothy Swain & we went to see "Now But The Lonely Heart". Picture dragged in pants, & altho' the theme was good "man trying to find a happy life" it was poorly brought out. Naturally Miss Ethel Bannymore was good — After the show we got "spare ribs". Gosh, Amy is sure a grand kid — at least, she doesn't think the war is over!!!

When I got home, I wrapped packages — I'm sending them both to you tomorrow. but the smaller one is for Cap't Shaw. He didn't send me a request, so I used one of yours. Okay? I know he'll get a "kick" out of it. Sweetheart, I forgot to take the price tags off on some of the stuff — make my apologies to Shaw.

Thanks!

Enclosed is a poem
one of the WALS in Amy's office wrote. I think the first part is excellent.
she gets a little "mixed up" in her rhyme in the latter part. However,
it does express some of my feelings very adequately!

Eventually, I'll get around to sending you another lengthy letter.

However, whether my letters are long or short they carry all
my love to you.

Yours forever,
Edith

Alice P- called this p.m. She's in town for week-end. I thank you for your Vmail. That was awfully nice of you to remember dear — she did appreciate the letter.

Said took my advice & got a date with Elaine Homborg